The Euclidean distance is a common choice for similarity measures.

distance =
$$\sum_{i=1}^{N} (a_i - b_i)^2 = (a - b) \bullet (a - b)$$

The Euclidean distance is simply the dot product between the difference of the two vectors.